To whom it may concern

Simon Chambers from Fair and Square Tiling has just finished fully tiling two bathrooms and a kitchen for me and it would impossible to praise his beautiful work highly enough. He also worked ridiculously long hours to help us meet a tight completion deadline which he did without complaint, with very good humour – and for a very fair price.

Without doubt Simon is the most skilled tiler I have ever employed and I would not hesitate to recommend him to anyone.

Such skilled, hardworking and decent people are a rare breed – and I will certainly be using Simon in the future.

Please feel free to call me if you have any questions.

Yours faithfully
